

Summer Production Team Member

About Fili Creative

Fili Creative is a video production company based in Salina, Kansas. Fili's mission is to fight for the good in the world by telling stories that matter. Fili's portfolio ranges from short film, interview-based storytelling, commercials, live streaming, drone footage, and more.

Program Overview

The Summer Production Team will be assisting Fili Creative in their passion for telling stories. The program will include a variety of experiences that will enhance their media production career goals.

These experiences will include:

Weekly Projects: Team members will rotate between different roles in each production. Each project will highlight a locally owned small business.

Events: Fili Creative has been hired to document several large events through the summer. Team members will participate in the production process for these events.

Short Film: Fili periodically produces short narrative films and plans to produce one short over the summer. Team members will assist in all aspects of the production.

Assisting in Production: Team members will assist in day-to-day operations with a wide range of established clients.
